

Introduction

This discourse is from Rabbi Menachem Mendel of Horodok (also known as the Horodoker), a leading disciple of the Maggid of Mezritch and one of the early pioneers of Chassidus in Eretz Yisrael. A spiritual giant of the second generation of the Chassidic movement, the Horodoker was known for his fiery avodah and his ability to reveal the inner depths of Teshuvah and deveikus. He later led a group of Chassidim who settled in Tiberias in the late 1700s, bringing Chassidus to the Land of Israel.

In this maamar, based on "ואתהנן אל ה' בעת ההיא" (Devarim 3:23), the Horodoker explores Teshuvah not as a behavioral correction, but as a soul's visceral return to divine oneness. He interweaves halachic midrashim, Kabbalistic metaphors, and existential longing, crafting a vision of Teshuvah as an ascent beyond judgment — into the realm of pure divine compassion and unity.

The verse (Devarim 4:34): "You have been shown to know." Rashi, of blessed memory, explained: as the Targum renders—you were shown; at the time of the giving of the Torah, He opened for them the seven heavens, and just as He tore open the upper realms, so He tore open the lower realms,	פָּסוּק (דְּבָרִים ד לּ"ד): אַתָּה הָרְאֵתָ לָדַעַת . פֵּירֵשׁ רַשִּ"י ז"ל: כְּתַרְגוּמוֹ אֶתְחָזִי, בִּשְׁעַת מֵתַּן תּוֹרָה פָּתַח לָהֶם ז' רְקִיעִים, וּכְשֵׁם שֶׁקָּרַע אֶת הָעֶלְיוֹנִים נִּךָּע אֶת הַתַּחְתּוֹנִים וְרָאוּ שֶׁהוּא יָחִיד וְכוּ:
and they saw that He is One, etc. Behold, the Rabbi began with the verse (Devarim 3:23): "And I entreated Hashem." Rashi explained: "Entreaty" means a free gift, even though the righteous have what to rely upon in their good deeds, etc.	הָנֵּה פָּתַח הָרַב בְּפָסוּק (דְּבָרִים ג, כ"ג): "וָאֶתְחַנַּן אֶל ה'", וּפִירֵשׁ רַשִּ"י "אֵין חִנּוּן אֶלֶא מַתַּנַּת חָנָּם, אַף עַל פִּי שָׁיֵשׁ לָהֶם לַצַּדִּיקִים לְתְלוֹת בְּמַעֲשֵׂיהֶם "הַטוֹבִים וְכוּ
And the matter is as the verse (Yeshayahu 40:1): "Comfort, comfort My people," (Yeshayahu 40:2): "For she has taken from the hand of Hashem double, etc." The Midrash is primary: they sinned doubly, and were struck doubly, and are comforted doubly. This is "Comfort, comfort."	ְהָעִנְיָן הוּא עַל־דֶּרֶךְ הַפָּסוּק (יִשְׁעָיָהוּ מ, א): "נַחֲמוּ נַחֲמוּ עַמִּי כוֹ" (יִשְׁעָיָהוּ מ, ב): "כִּי לָקְחָה מִיַּד ה' כִּפְלַיִם כוֹ", הַמִּדְרָשׁ הוּא עִיקָּר: חָטְאוּ בִּרְפָלִים וְלָקוּ בִּרְפָלִים וְנִחֲמוּ בִּרְפָלִים, זֶהוּ "נַחֲמוּ בִּרְפָלִים וְלָקוּ
And the matter is to understand what is Teshuvah. It is explained many times in the Zohar that it is the place of Binah, and of shofar, and of freedom.	ְוָהָעָנְיָן לְהָבִין מַהוּ תְּשׁוּבָה, מְבֹאָר כַּמָּה פְּעָמִים בַּזּהַר, שֶהוּא מְקוֹם בִּינָה וְשׁוֹפָר וְחֵרוּת,
Behold, it is known from many sayings of the Talmud and the Zohar that the kelipah is called "free" (chinam), as the Sages said: Gehinom is for matters of "free" (chinam), and in the Zohar in many places.	הָנֵּה הוּא מֵהִיוֹת יָדוּעַ מִפַּמָּה מַאֲמֶרֵי הַש"ס וְהַזּהַר שֶׁהַקְּלִפָּה נָקְרֵאת חָנָּם, כְּמַאֲמֵר רַזַ"ל גֵיהִנֹּם עַל ,עָסְקֵי חָנָם, וּבַזּהַר בְּכַמָּה מְקוֹמוֹת
And the reason is that they cling to a person freely, and rest upon him without any preparation.	וְהַפַּעַם לִהְיוֹתָם מִתְדַּבְּקִים בָּאָדָם חָנָם וְשׁוֹרִים עָלָיו בִּלְתִּי שׁוּם הָכָנָה,

For for the dwelling of holiness upon a person, great repentance and strong strength and self-sacrifice are required. Then he will cling to His attributes, for behold (Devarim 4:24): "A consuming fire is He."	כִּי לְהַשְׁרָאַת הַקְּדוּשָּׁה עַל הָאָדָם צָּרִיךְ תְּיוּבְתָּא סַגִּי וְחֵילָא תַקִּיף וּמְסִירַת נֶּפֶשׁ, אָז יִדְבַּק בְּמִדּוֹתָיו "כִּי הַלֹא (דְּבָרִים ד, כ"ד): "אֵשׁ אֹכְלָה הוּא
Whereas the kelipah rests on its own upon a person in the absence of holiness, for a person is a prepared vessel to receive—if [he is] holy, he is holy, and one who comes to purify is assisted; and if not, God forbid, the kelipah rests on its own.	מַה שֶּׁאֵין כֵּן הַקְּלָפָּה שׁוֹרָה מֵעַצְמָה עַל הָאָדָם בְּהֶעְדֵּר הַקְּדוּשָׁה, כִּי הָאָדָם כְּלִי מוּכָן הוּא לְקַבֵּל, אָם קְדוּשָׁה קָדוֹשׁ הוּא וְהַבָּא לְטָהֵר מְסַיְּעִין לוֹ, וְאָם לָאו ח"ו הַקְּלִפָּה מֵעַצְמָה שׁוֹרָה
(Vayikra 13:45): "And he shall call out: 'Impure, impure." And experience testifies: a person who does not accustom himself to the affection for holiness	וַיִּקְרָא י"ג, מ"ה): "וְטָמֵא טָמֵא יִקְרָא", וְהַחוּשׁ) מָעִיד אָדָם שֶׁאֵינוֹ מַרְגִּיל עַצְמוֹ בְּחִיבַת הַקֹּדָשׁ,
Even though his intellect obligates him, and his faith is with him, to do what is good and upright, and there are many arguments against doing evil—especially regarding arrogance—	אַף עַל פִּי שֶׁשֵּׂכֶלוֹ מְחַיֵּב וֶאֱמוּנָתוֹ אָתּוֹ לַעֲשׁוֹת הַטוֹב וְהַיָּשָׁר, וְכַמָּה טַעֲנוֹת נֶגֶד עֲשׁוֹת הָרֶע וּבִפְּרָט בְּעִנְיַן הַגַּדְלוּת,
nevertheless he does not have the power to act or to submit before the Blessed Creator.	אַף עַל פִּי כֵן אֵין בְּיָדוֹ לַעֲשׂוֹת אוֹ לְהַכְנִיעַ נָגֶד הַבּוֹרֵא יִתְבָּרֵךְ שְׁמוֹ,
And certainly this is nothing but evil of heart, and the kelipah that rests upon him does not allow him [to act].	וּבוַדַּאי אֵין זֶה כִּי־אָם רֹעַ לֵב וְהַקְּלְכָּה הַשׁוֹרָה עָלָיו אֵינָה מְנַחַת אוֹתוֹ,
Or as our Sages said: he transgressed and repeated it—[it becomes] permitted, etc., rather it becomes as if permitted, etc.	'אֹ כְּמוֹ שֶׁאָמְרוּ רַזַ"ל עָבַר וְשָׁנָה בָּה הַתְּרָה וְגוֹ אֶלָּא נַעֲשֵׂית כְּהֶיתֵר כוּ,
Even though he knows the prohibition from the Torah and from intellect, nevertheless the kelipah that rests upon him makes the matter seem permitted.	הַגַּם שֶׁיוֹדֵעַ הָאִסּוּר מִן הַתּוֹרָה וְהַמּוּשְׂכָּל, אַף עַל פִּי בֵן הַקְּלִפָּה הַשׁוֹרָה עָלָיו עוֹשָׂה לוֹ הַדָּבָר כְּמוֹ הֶיתֵר,
And who knows in what way—God spare us—from this knowledge?	וֹמִי יוֹדֵעַ בְּאֵיֵזוֹ אֹפֶן רַ"ל מִיְדִיעָה זוֹ,
Therefore, every attribute and limb in a person that is not offered and sanctified to His Blessed Name—automatically impurity falls there and the kelipah is there.	לָכֵן כָּל מִדָּה וְאֵבֶר שֶׁבָּאָדָם שֶׁאֵינוֹ מֵקְטָר וּמוּקְדָּשׁ לִשְׁמוֹ יִתְבָּרֵדְ שָׁמוֹ, מִמֵּילָא חָל הַטֵּמְאָה שָׁם ,וְהַקְּלָפָּה שָׁם
And it does everything—as a drunkard—sins and transgressions and offenses, without understanding.	ְעוֹשָׂה כָּל מָה, כְּשִׁכּוֹר חֲטָאִים וַעֲוֹנוֹת פְּשָׁעִים בְּלְתִּי הֵבֵן,
And its end is bitter as wormwood, when he contemplates himself—that everything he did was through the kelipah.	וְאַחֲרִיתָהּ מֶרָה כַלַּעֲנָה כְּשֶׁמְּתְבּוֹנֵן בְּעַצְמוֹ שֶׁכָּל מַה שֶׁצָשָׂה עַל־יְדֵי הַקְּלָפָּה;
And where, then, is he? And who will see his hope?	וְאַיֵּה אֵיפוֹא הוּא וְתִקְנַתוֹ מִי יְשׁוּרֶנָּה,

And aside from the fact that he himself has distanced from Hashem, he also burdens his Creator with many contractions in order to provide vitality to the kelipah—	וּמִלְּבַד זֶה שֶׁנִּתְרַחֵק מֵהַשֵּׁם יִתְבָּרֵךְ בְּעַצְמוֹ אֶלָּא שֶׁמַּטְרִיחַ אֶת קוֹנוֹ בְּצִמְצוּמִים רַבִּים לְהַשְׁפִּיעַ חַיּוּת אֶל הַקְּלִפָּה,
as is known, since the vitality of man is from the holy chayos, and a limb from the Shechinah—and when he cleaves to the kelipah, he brings sparks of holiness into the kelipah.	כַּיָדוּעַ מֵהֶיוֹת חַיּוּת הָאָדָם מֵחַיּוֹת הַקֹּדֶשׁ וְאֵבֶר מִן הַשְּׁכִינָה, וּּבְהִתְדַּבְּקוֹ אֶל הַקְּלְפָּה מַכְנִיס נִצּוֹצֵי הַקְּדוּשָׁה אָל הַקְּלְפָּה,
And this is what our Sages said: "And not only that, but they trouble Him, etc."	וְזֶהוּ שֶׁאָמְרוּ רַזַ"ל "וְלֹא עוֹד אֶלָּא שֶׁמַּטְרִיחִין אוֹתוֹ ווְגוֹ",
And the saying of the verse (Yirmiyahu 2:13): "Two evils has My people done," and this is (Iyov 1:8): "Jerusalem has sinned a sin"—in a double expression.	וּמַאֲמֵר הַפָּסוּק (יִרְמְיָהוּ ב, י"ג): "שְׁתַּיִם רָעוֹת עָשָׂה עַמִּי" וְזֶהוּ (אִיּוֹב א, ח): "חֵטְא חָטְאָה ,יְרוּשָׁלִַם" בִּרְפַל
And behold, after he contemplates that he is like one deceived and straying on the road, he must return and go back in the path by which he came, to the straight path—and this must be in that same place.	וְהַנֵּה אַחֲרֵי שֶׁמָּתְבּוֹנֵן הֱיוֹתוֹ כְּמִתְעַתֵּעַ וְתוֹעֶה בַּדָּרֶךְ, צָרִיךְּ לַחֲזוֹר וְלָשׁוּב בַּדֶּרֶךְ אֲשֶׁר בָּא בָה אֶל דֶּרֶךְ הַיָּשָׁר וְזָהוּ בְּאוֹתוֹ מָקוֹם,
But all his repentance must be elevation—to turn away from snares of death to the paths of life in all his attributes.	אֲבָל כָּל תְּשׁוּבוֹתָיו הָרָמָתָה, צָרִידְ־לִּהְיוֹת לָסוּר מָמִוֹקְשֵׁי מָנֶת אֶל דַּרְבֵי הַחַיִּים בְּכָל מִדּוֹתָיו,
Therefore, teshuvah is called Binah (understanding) and Cheirus (freedom), for through contemplation he returns to Hashem, and the beginning of his corruption was through wandering like a drunkard, and the kelipah rested upon him automatically.	לָכֵן נָקְרֵאת הַתְּשׁוּבָה בִּינָה וְחֵרוּת, שֶׁהָרֵי עַל־יְדֵי הָתְבּוֹנְנוּת שָׁב אֶל ה', וּתְחָלֵּת קִלְקוּלָיו הוּא מֵהִתְעוּת כְּשִׁכּוֹר, וְהַקְּלְפָּה שׁוֹרָה עָלָיו מִמֵּילָא,
And now, through contemplation, he regrets and repents and exits to freedom from the seven nations—which are the kelipah, which are the bad attributes.	וְעַכְשָׁו עַל־יְדֵי הִתְּבּוֹנְנוּת מִתְחָרֵט וְשָׁב וְיוֹצֵא לַחֵרוּת מִז' עַמִּין שֶׁהֵם הַקְּלִפָּה שֶׁהֵם מִדּוֹת הָרָעוֹת,
It is also called Shofar , for when he contemplates all that befell him from the "wicked waters"—and where he went and turned his glory when distancing from holiness and the Living of life, and he clothed sack and ashes, which is the kelipah—	גַם נָקְרֵאת שׁוֹפָר, שֶׁהָרֵי כְּשֶׁמִּתְבּוֹנֵן עַל כָּל מַה שֶׁעָבַר עָלָיו מִמַּיִם זֵידוֹנִים וְאָנָה הָלַךְ וּפָנָה הוֹדוֹ בְּהַרְחִיקוֹ מִן הַקְּדֵשָּׁה וְחֵי הַחַיִּים וְהַלְבִּישׁ שַׂק וָאֵפֶּר שֶׁהוּא הַקְּלָפָּה
and not on himself alone, but on the holy and on the Sanctuary also, as mentioned—	וְלֹא עַל־עַצְמוֹ כִּי־אָם עַל הַקֹּדֶשׁ וְעַל הַמִּקְדָּשׁ גַם־כֵּן כַּנִּזְכָּר.
then trembling will seize him, and bitterness will be his—besides fear of Gan Eden and Gehinnom.	אָז תּאֹחָזֵהוּ פַּלָּצוּת וּמֶרָה תִהְיֶה לוֹ מִלְּבַד יִרְאַת גַּן־עֵדֶן וְגֵיהִנֹּם

And behold, in truth, when the living one puts to heart the bitterness of the sin itself—after he has already done it—it is more difficult in the heart of man than all the punishments possible to be upon that sin, both in this world and in the World to Come, doubly multiplied.	וְהנֵּה בֶאֱמֶת כְּשֶׁהֶחַי יִתֵּן אֶל לִבּוֹ מְרִירוּת הַחֵטְא בְּעַצְמוֹ אַחֲרֵי אֲשֶׁר כְּבָר עֲשָׂהוּ, הוּא יוֹתֵר קָשָׁה בְּלֵב אָדָם מִכָּל הָעַנָשִׁים הָאֶפְשָׁרִי לִהְיוֹת עַל חֲטְא זֶה, הֵן בָּעוֹלָם הַזֶּה וְהֵן בָּעוֹלָם הַבָּא כִּפְלֵי כִפְלַיִם
And justice demands it, for those punishments are a healing and remedy and cleansing of that sin in order to heal him.	ְהַדִּין נוֹתֵן שֶׁהֲרֵי אוֹתָם הָעֲנוּשִׁין הֵם רְפּוּאָה וּמְזוֹר וּמִירוּק אוֹתוֹ הַחֵּטָא בִּכְדֵי לְהַבְּרִיאוֹ,
And presumably the wound is the deficiency and lack, and the bitterness is even more than the remedy—	וּמִסְתַּמָּא הַמַּכָּה הָיא הַגְּרִיעוּת וְהַחֶּסְרוֹן, וְהַמְּרִירוּת יוֹתֵר וְיוֹתֵר מָן הָרְפּוּאָה,
and therefore one is healed by the remedy from the wound.	וּלְהֵכִי הוּא מִתְרַפַּא בְּרְפוּאָה מָן הַמֵּכָּה,
And behold, it is known the saying of our Sages: With the Torah the Holy One, blessed be He, created the world—that is, with the letters of the Torah, as is known from the Zohar.	וְהַנֵּה יָדוּעַ אָמְרוּ רַזַ"ל בְּאוֹרַיְיתָא בָּרָא קוּב"ה עָלְמָא, שֶׁהוּא בְּאוֹתִיּוֹת הַתּוֹרָה כִּי יָדוּעַ מִן הַזּהַר,
That all a person's actions and schemes are all letters.	שָׁכָּל מַעֲשֵׂה הָאָדָם וּתְחַבּוּלוֹתָיו הַכֹּל הֵם אוֹתוָן,
And if he sinned, God forbid, he inserts the letters into evil, God forbid.	ו"ו מַכְנִיס הָאוֹתִיּוֹת בְּרֵע ח"ו,
Therefore, confession was established in alphabetical order,	לָכֵן נִתְקַן הַוִּדּוּי בְּדֶרֶךְ אַלְפָּא־בֵיתָא,
so that afterward, when he contemplates the distortion of his actions,	בְּכְדֵי שֶׁאַחַר כָּךְ כְּשֶׁמְּתְבּוֹנֵן עַל הָתְעַוּוּתוֹ אֶת מַעֲשָׂיו,
and seizes in his heart the greatness of the bitterness of the sin itself, as mentioned above—which is doubly worse than all punishments—	ּוְתוֹפֵס בִּלְבּוֹ גּוֹדֶל מָרִירוּת הַחֵטְא בְּעַצְמוֹ כַּנַ"ל, שָׁהוּא כִּפְלַיִם מִכָּל הָעֲנוּשִׁין,
he certainly regrets and cries out over what has passed: "I am guilty"—and the entire confession—until all his strength and all his attributes are nullified.	בְּוַדָּאי מִתְחָרֵט וְצוֹעֵק עַל מֵה שֶׁעָבַר: אָשַמְתִּי וְכָל הַוִּדּוּי עַד כָּלוֹת כָּל כֹּחוֹתָיו וּבִטוּל מִדּוֹתָיו,
For from the greatness of bitterness, a fire not fanned has seized him—	וֹתְנָל הַמְּרִירוּת אֵשׁ לֹא נֹפַח אֲחָזָתוֹ,
such that it is impossible to express it in speech or statement, only in a voiced sound—	אֲשֶׁר אִי־אֶפְשֶׁר לְהַכְנִיסוֹ בְּדִיבּוּר וַאֲמִירָה כִּי־אִם בָּקוֹל הַבָּרָה,
he groans with groaning and wails with wailing, and simply cries out to Hashem.	גְנוּחֵי גְנַח וִילוּלֵי יְיַל, וְצוֹעֵק סְתָם אֶל ה'
And the God answers him with a voice, for thereby the letters are elevated from the evil.	ְוָהָאֱלֹהִים יַעֲנֶנוּ בְּקוֹל, כִּי בָזֶה מִתְעַלִּים הָאוֹתִיּוֹת מִן הָרָע,
For he has elevated speech—which are the letters—into voice, which is above speech.	שֶׁהֲרֵי הוּא הֶעֶלָה הַדִּיבּוּר שֶׁהֵם הָאוֹתִיוֹת אֶל הַקּוֹל שָׁהִוּא לְמַעְלָה מִן הַדִּיבּוּר,

A 1.1. 1 1. 11 1.01 C
And this is what is called Shofar .	ָן זֶהוּ שֶׁנִּקְרָא שׁוֹפָר,
And from the contemplation in his daas, he enters into Binah , and from there to Chochmah , which is the love of Hashem—	וּמָן הַהָּתְבּוֹנְנוּת בְּדַעְתּוֹ נִכְנָס בִּבְינָה וּמִשָּׁם אֶל הַחָכְמָה שֶׁהוּא אַהָבַת ה',
which has come to him because of the jealousy of Hashem Tzevakos, who was jealous for Himself with great compassion upon Hashem—	שֶׁהָגִּיעַ אֵלָיו מִחֲמַת קָנָאַת ה' צְּבָאוֹת שֶׁקּנֵא לְעַצְמוּ בּגְדוֹל רַחֲמָנוּתוֹ עַל ה',
for He was forced into great constriction because of his sins.	וְהָכְרַח עֹצֶם צִמְצוּמוֹ עַל־יְדֵי חֲטָאָיו
And from that compassion he comes to love of Hashem, in that he is zealous for Hashem's jealousy—	וּמָן הָרַחֲמָנוּת בָּא אֶל אַהָבַת ה' בְּקַנְאוֹ אֶת קִנְאַת ה'
and he judges himself with bitterness of heart, more than double all the punishments.	וְעוֹשֶׂה דִּין בְּעַצְמוֹ עִם מְרִירוּת לְבֵּוֹ כִּפְלַיִם מִכָּל הָעֲנוּשִׁין,
And Pinchas became zealotry, and acquired his world in one hour. And this is: "Better is reproof in a man's heart" etc., and this is: "In the place where penitents stand" etc.	ְוַנַעֲשֶׂה פִּינְחָס קִנְאָה, וְקוֹנֶה עוֹלֶמוֹ בְּשֶׁעָה אַחַת, וְזֶהוּ יָפֶה מַרְדּוּת בְּלְבּוֹ שֶׁל אָדָם כו׳ וְזֶהוּ בִּמְקוֹם שָׁבַעֲלֵי תְשׁוּבָה עוֹמְדִין וכו׳,
And this is the words of the verse: "נְּחֲמֵּה נַחֲמֵה etc., and the comfort is doubled, for the verse speaks of penitents who return due to fear of sin itself, and not due to fear of punishment—which is double the bitterness of punishments.	ְוֶזֶהוּ דִּבְרֵי הַפָּסוּק "נַחֲמוּ נַחֲמוּ וכוי" וְכוֹפֵל הַנֶּחָמָה שֶׁהַפָּסוּק מְדַבֵּר בִּבְעַלֵי תְשׁוּבָה מִחְמַת יִרְאַת חֵטְא עַצְמוֹ וְלֹא מִחְמַת יִרְאַת עוֹנֶשׁ, שֶׁהוּא כֶּפֶל מָמְרִירוּת שֶׁל עֲנָשִׁין,
This is "speak to the heart of Jerusalem," for "speak" is a harsh expression—to the heart of one who fears with completeness. And "call to her"—"call" is an expression of affection, an expression used by the ministering angels, as it says (Yeshayahu 6:3): "And one called to another."	זֶהוּ דַּבְּרוּ עַל לֵב יְרוּשָׁלַם, כִּי דַּבֵּרוּ הוּא לָשׁוֹן קָשֶׁה, עַל לֵב יְרֵא שָׁלֵם, וְקְרָאוּ אֵלֶיהָ שֶׁקּרָאוּ לָשׁוֹן חִיבָּה לָשׁוֹן שֶׁמַלְאֲכֵי הַשָּׁרֵת מִשְׁתַּמְשִׁים (יְשַׁצְיָהוּ ו, "ג): "וְקָרָא זָה אֶל זָה,
For from the bitterness one comes to love and affection. And this is: "for her sin has been appeased"—for he has returned out of love, and his willful sins are transformed to merits, and from sin becomes will.	כִּי מִן הַמְּרִירוּת יָבוֹא אֶל הָאַהְבָה וְהַחִיבָּה, וְזֶהוּ כִּי נִרְצָה עֲוֹנָה, שֶׁהֲרֵי הוּא שָׁב מֵאַהְבָה וּזְדוֹנוֹת נַעֲשִׂין לוֹ כִּזְכֵיּוֹת וּמִן הָעָוֹן נַעֲשֶׂה רָצוֹן,
And why all this? "For she has taken from the hand of Hashem double for all her sins," for this returnee was aroused in his heart over Hashem's compassion—doubly—about the sin itself: how he did it and troubled his Creator so.	וְלָמָּה כָּל זֶה "כִּי לָקְחָה מִיַּד ה׳ כִּפְלַיִם בְּכָל חַטֹּאתֶיהָ", שֶׁהֲרֵי זֶה הַשָּׁב נִתְעוֹרֵר בִּלְבּוֹ עַל רַחְמֵנוּת הַשֵּׁי"ת כִּפְלַיִם עַל הַחֵטָא בְּעַצְמוֹ אֵיךְ ,עֲשָׂהוּ וְהִטְרִיחַ אֶת קוֹנוֹ כָּךְ
And this is (Devarim 3:23): "נָאֶתְתַנוּן"—for this is the way of the righteous, who are crushed and of humble spirit and lowly in their own eyes despite all their good deeds.	וְזֶהוּ (דְּבָרִים ג, כ"ג): "וָאֶתְחַנַּן" כִּי דֶּרֶדְ צַדִּיקִים שָׁהֵם דַּכָּאֵי וּשְׁפַלֵּי רוּחַ וּנְבוּזִים בְּעֵינֵיהֶם עִם כָּל מֵעֲשֵׂיהֶם הַטּוֹבִים,

For this is the explanation of luminaries—as is known—even a kesser (crown) is dark before the Supreme Cause. And their essential desire and longing is to cleave to Hashem.	שֶׁהוּא פֵּירוּשׁ מְאוֹרִים, כִּי יָדוּעַ שֶׁאֲפִילוּ כֶּתֶר, אוּכַם הוּא קֵדָם עִלַּת הָעָלוֹת, וְעִקֵּר חֶשְׁקָם וְתַאֲוָתָם ,הוּא לְדָבֵק בַּה׳
As is known that the trait of the tzaddik is connection, and they do not place attention upon their good deeds and their radiance, for what are they worth compared to the light of Hashem, for they are blackness before Him and utter material.	פִּי יָדוּעַ שֶׁמִדַּת הַצַּדִּיק הוּא הִתְקַשְׁרוּת, וְאֵינָם שָׂמִים עַל לְבָּם מַעֲשֵׂיהֶם הַטּוֹבִים אֲשֶׁר אוֹר לַה׳ פִּי אוֹכַם הוּא מִפְּנָיו יִתְבַּרֵךְ וְגָשֶׁם גָּמוּר הוּא,
As it is said (Mishlei 6:23): "For a mitzvah is a lamp and Torah is light," for the mitzvah is a lamp—light bound with physicality, and Torah is light—pure and abstract from all physicality.	כְּנֶאֱמֵר (מִשְׁלֵי ו, כ"ג): "כִּי נֵר מִצְוָה וְתוֹרָה אוֹר", שֶׁהַמִּצְוָה הוּא נֵר שֶׁהוּא אוֹר הַדָּבוּק בְּגַשְׁמִי וְתוֹרָה אוֹר שֶׁהַתּוֹרָה הִיא אוֹר פָּשׁוּט וּמֵפְשָׁט מִכָּל הַגַּשְׁמִים,
And this is the desire of the tzaddikim—to cleave to the supernal source and from there draw and lower compassion to all worlds, in the way of the tzaddik, who is the connector of all worlds.	וְזֶהוּ חָשֶׁק הַצַּדִּיקִים לְהָדָּבֵק בַּמָּקוֹר הָעֶלְיוֹן וּמִשֶּׁם מַמְשִׁיכִים וּמַשְׁפִּילִים רַחֲמִים לְכָל הָעוֹלָמוֹת כְּדֶרֶךְ הַצַּדִּיק שֶׁהוּא הִתְקַשְּׁרוּת כָּל הָעוֹלָמוֹת.
And likewise their prayer—they do not pay attention to their good and radiant deeds, for what are they compared to the infinite light, may He be blessed. Rather they request a free gift, like Hashem gives even to kelipos—as it says (Nechemiah 9:6): "And You give life to them all."	ְרֵבֵן דֶּרֶךְ תְּפִלֶּתָם גַּם־כֵּן שֶׁאֵין שָׁמִים לְבָּם אֶל מַצְשֵׁיהֶם הַטּוֹבִים וּמֵאִירִים כִּי בַּמֶּה נָחְשָׁבוּ לָהֶם ,נָגֶד אוֹר אֵין־סוֹף בָּרוּךְ הוּא אֶלָא מְבַקְּשִׁים מַתְּנַת חָנָּם שֶׁהוּא כְּמוֹ שֶׁהַשֵּׁי"ת בָּרוּךְ הוּא מְחַיֶּה הַקְּלִיפּוֹת, כְּמַאֲמָר (נְחָמְיָה ט, ו): ,""וְאַתָּה מְחַיֶּה אֶת כַּלָּם
And this is what is written (Devarim 3:23): "בַּעַה"—meaning at whatever time it is from the 24 times, such is their prayer to draw compassion as a free gift at any time.	ְוְזֶהוּ שֶׁכָּתוּב (דְּבָרִים ג, כ"ג): "בָּעֵת הַהִּוא", פֵּירוּשׁ אָם הוּא בְּאֵיֵזוֹ עֵת שֶׁהוּא מָן הַכ"ד עִתִּים, כֵּן הוּא דָּרֶךְ הְּפָלָתוֹ לְהַמְשִׁיךְ רַחֲמִים בִּתְּרוּמַת מָתְנַת חִנָּם בְּכָל עֵת שֶׁהוּא,
And this is "לֵאמֹר"—which means to say to others. That is, it is the source and root of speech, which is above everything—for speech from the heart, and all the more so above the attributes.	וְזֶהוּ "לֵאמֹר" שֶׁהוּא מִלְשׁוֹן לֵאמֹר לַאֲחֵרִים, פֵּירוּשׁ שֶׁהוּא מוֹצָא וְשֹׁרֶשׁ הַדִּבּוּר שֶׁהוּא לְמַעְלָה מִן הַכּּל, שֶׁהַרֵי אֲמִירָה בַלֵּב, וְכָל־שֶׁכֵּן שֶׁהוּא לְמַעְלָה מִן הַמִּדּוֹת,
And automatically the attributes and judgments are nullified.	וּמִמֵּילָא מִתְבַּטְּלִים הַמִּדוֹת וְהַדִּינִין,
And this is what it says: A person should always first arrange the praise of the Omnipresent and only afterward pray and request his needs.	וְזֶהוּ לְעוֹלָם יְסַדֵּר אָדָם שִׁבְחוֹ שֶׁל מָקוֹם תְּחִלָּה וְאַחַר כָּךְ יִתְפַּלֵל וִיבַקֵּשׁ צְרָכִיו,
That is, he must connect to the supernal source—like here, where it says: "אַהָּה הַחְלֹתָ לְהַרְאוֹת אֶת עַבְּדֶּךְ"—which is the source and root of speech.	פַּירוּשׁ שֶׁצָּרִידְּ לְהָתָלַשֵּׁר מָקוֹר הָעֶלְיוֹן כְּמוֹ בְּכָאן שֶׁאָמַר "אַתָּה הַחִלֹּתָ לְהַרְאוֹת אֶת עַבְדֶּדְּ" שֶׁהוּא מוֹצָא וְשֹׁרֶשׁ דָּבָר,

And from there to draw compassion in the order of the attributes: "גַּדְלָדְּ וְאֶת יָדְדָּ הַחֲזָקָה".	וּמִשֶּׁם לְהַמְשִׁיהִ רַחֲמִים כְּסֵדֶר הַמִּדּוֹת: "גָּדְלְדְּ וְאֶת יָיָדְדָּ הַחַזָּקָה,
And afterward, when he arrives at the place of the lack that he lacks, he brings into his heart that everything is from Him, may He be blessed.	וְאַחֵר כָּדְ כְּשֶׁמַּגִּיעַ אֶל מָקוֹם הַחֶּסְרוֹן אֲשֶׁר חָסֵר לוֹ, מַכְנִיס בְּלִבּוֹ שֶׁהָרֵי הַכּּל מֵאָתוֹ יִתְבָּרֵדְּ
And in every lack, there must be a greater constriction from Hashem. And certainly, some sin in his heart caused it, and he becomes bitter and repents—until he returns to the root of wisdom and love of Hashem as mentioned above.	וּבָכָל חֶסְרוֹן מֻכְרָח לִהְיוֹת צִמְצוּם בְּיוֹתֵר שֶׁל הַשֵּׁי"ת, וּבוַדַּאי גָּרַם אֵיזֶה חֵטְא בְּלִבּוֹ וּמִתְמַךְמֵר וְשָׁב עַד שֶׁחוֹזֵר אֶל שֹׁרֶשׁ הַחָּכְמָה וְאַהֲבַת ה' כַּנַּ"ל,
That is, wisdom at the beginning and wisdom at the end. The general rule is to draw compassion upon all creatures—even upon the wicked—for who knows what is in the heart of a person?	שֶׁהוּא חָכְמָה בָּרֹאשׁ וְחָכְמָה בַּסּוֹף, כְּלָלָא דְּמִלְּתָא לְהַמְשִׁידְּ רַחֲמִים עַל כָּל הַבְּרוּאִים וַאֲפִלּוּ עַל הָךְשָׁעִים, כִּי מִי יוֹדֵעַ מַה בְּלֵב שֶׁל אָדָם,
Perhaps he reached in his repentance in one hour what a completely righteous person cannot achieve.	אוֹ אוּלֵי הָגִּיעַ בִּרְשׁוּבָתוֹ בְּשֶׁעָה אַחַת מַה שֶּׁאֵין צַדִּיק גָּמוּר יָכוֹל,
And do not prosecute against anyone, for wisdom and knowledge to judge a person were already taken from us—even with two witnesses.	ְלֹא לְקַטְרֵג עַל שׁוּם אֶחָד שֶׁכְּבָר נִטְלָה מֵאָתָנוּ הַחָּכְמָה וְהַמֵּדָע לָדוּן אֶת הָאָדָם אֲפִלּוּ עַל־פִּי שְׁנֵי עָדִים,
And certainly without testimony or evidence. This is only for the One great in knowledge and abundant in deeds—who is zealous for Hashem Tzevakos.	ְרָכָל־שֶׁכֵּן בְּלֹא עֵדוּת וְרֵאָיָה, אֵין זֶה כִּי־אָם גָּדוֹל דֵּעָה וְרַב עֲלִילוֹת וּמַעֲשִׂים טוֹבִים וּמְקַנֵּא לַה' ,צְבָאוֹת
If one wishes to be zealous for Himself in his heart as mentioned above, in whatever way he finds.	אָם רוֹצֶה לְקַנֵּא לְעַצְמוֹ בְּלָבּוֹ כַּנַ"ל בְּכָל אֲשֶׁר יָפָּצֵא.
And this is: "אַהָה הָרְאֵהָ לְדַעַת" etc., for at the time of the giving of the Torah, Israel had freedom—which is the place of teshuvah that is above the attributes, which are called "heavens" that divide and separate.	ְזֶהוּ "אַתָּה הָרְאֵתָ לָדַעַת כו׳", כִּי בִּשְׁעַת מַתַּן־תּוֹרָה הָיָה לְיִשְׂרָאֵל חֵרוּת שֶׁהוּא מָקוֹם הַתְּשׁוּבָה שֶׁהוּא לְמַעְלָה מִן הַמִּדּוֹת שֶׁהֵם נִקְרָאִים רָקִיעִים שֶׁהֵם מַפְּרִישׁ וּמָסָדְ,
But they saw that Hashem—who is Havayah (mercy)—is Elokim (attribute of justice): that the tzimtzum of Hashem is in every lack due to sin. And when one returns to Hashem, He will have mercy on him.	אָבָל רָאוּ כִּי ה' שֶׁהוּא הוי"ה רַחֲמִים הוּא אֱלֹהִים מִדַּת־הַדִּין, שֶׁהוּא צִּמְצוּם הַשֵּׁי"ת בְּכָל חֶסְרוֹן מָחְמַת חֵטָא הַמַּצְשֶׂה, וּכְשֶׁיָשׁוּב אֶל ה' וִירַחֲמֵהוּ.

NOTE Summary

The Horodoker begins with Moshe Rabbeinu's plea, "וֹאַתְּחְבוְ"—interpreted by Rashi as a request for a free gift, not a reward for merits. This becomes the key to understanding Teshuvah. True return is not driven by fear of punishment, but by bitterness over having caused distance from Hashem Himself. The sinner becomes like a man lost and disoriented, needing to retrace his steps to the very place where he went astray.

Teshuvah, he teaches, is called both Bina (understanding) and Cheirus (freedom). It breaks the stranglehold of the seven evil middos—the "seven nations" rooted in kelipah—and frees the soul from inner exile. This return is not intellectual alone; it is emotional and somatic. It is expressed not in words, but in cries and groans that rise beyond speech, lifting the distorted "letters" of past sin back into divine voice.

This is the meaning of Shofar—a cry from the innermost point that bypasses form and touches essence. The process leads from regret to compassion to love. The sinner's own pain over how he troubled his Creator brings him to a state where even sins become merits, and "צון נרצה"—the sin becomes will, transformed by Teshuvah from love.

In contrast to superficial religiosity, the tzaddik seeks deveikus, not reward. Even his mitzvos are seen as darkness before the Infinite Light. His entire avodah is rooted in humility and yearning, and his tefillah reflects this: he asks only for matnas chinam, like the kelipah that lives on Hashem's mercy.

The Horodoker explains that true tefillah begins with praise and connection to the divine source, before turning to personal requests. From the supernal root of "אָרה הַחָּלֹהָ" flows the chain of divine middos and compassion. The penitent eventually returns all the way to Chochmah, the source of ahavas Hashem, completing the cycle of Teshuvah: wisdom at the beginning and wisdom at the end.

Most profoundly, he warns against judgment of others. No one can know the heart of another or the depths of someone's Teshuvah. What a baal teshuvah achieves in one moment, a lifelong tzaddik may never reach. Since the era of Sanhedrin has ended, we no longer have the divine knowledge to judge—only Hashem does.

Practical Takeaway

Real Teshuvah isn't about fearing punishment—it's about feeling the heartbreak of having turned away from Hashem. This depth of regret can open a cry beyond words, a Shofar-blast from the soul that lifts even our sins into the realm of holiness. We must never rely on our merits or think we've "earned" connection; instead, we ask for compassion as a free gift. And we must never judge another person's spiritual journey. Every soul contains hidden powers that may awaken in a moment and return to Hashem in ways far beyond our understanding.

Chassidic Story

In Tiberias, the Horodoker once encountered a man who had previously lived a coarse and irreligious life. Without being asked, the man approached the Rebbe and began sobbing uncontrollably. The Horodoker closed his eyes and listened. He did not speak.

Later that day, a Chassid asked the Horodoker what he saw in the man. The Rebbe said:

"He cried without words. He didn't ask forgiveness. He didn't plead. But he was burning. That fire—the one that has no breath to feed it—is what the Baal Shem Tov called 'Teshuvah m'tokh ahavah.' He returned, and all the worlds shook."

TPX (Therapeutic-Psychological Integration)

The Horodoker's maamar on ואתחנן אל הי can be read as a profound psychological map of return and emotional healing. In modern therapeutic terms, it outlines a soul's journey from disconnection and misalignment toward deep internal integration, self-compassion, and union with the Source of life

At the heart of the maamar is the distinction between fear-based guilt and compassion-based remorse. The Horodoker teaches that true Teshuvah is not motivated by fear of punishment, but by the pain of having caused harm to a relationship—in this case, the relationship between soul and God. This parallels the therapeutic movement from external motivation (e.g. "I'll be punished") to internal awareness ("I feel the loss of connection and I want to repair it").

Sin, as described here, is not just a behavioral failure—it is a state of disconnection in which the soul becomes passive, allowing negative forces (kelipah) to attach. The kelipah requires no effort; it clings when one is spiritually disengaged. This echoes trauma psychology: when a person is in a state of emotional numbness or internal fragmentation, the nervous system becomes vulnerable to intrusive patterns—addiction, rage, shame, or detachment.

The turning point is hisbonenus—deep contemplation. The person reflects not only on what they did, but on what was lost. They realize the internal exile they created by distancing from their own divine self. This awakening generates not just sadness—but bitterness: a concentrated sorrow that transcends language. The Horodoker describes a cry that is nonverbal: groans, wails, and tremors. This is deeply familiar in trauma work, where healing breakthroughs often happen through pre-verbal release—the body remembers before the mind does.

At this point, the soul doesn't just confess—it reintegrates. The cry lifts the fallen "letters" of the past—its misused thoughts, emotions, and speech—back into kol, the primal voice. The Rebbe calls this "Shofar"—a blast of pain, longing, and awakening that restores spiritual coherence. This moment is freedom—Cheirus—the release from inner slavery.

In therapeutic terms, this is post-traumatic growth. The very thing that once caused rupture now becomes the site of deepest intimacy. Sin becomes ratzon, not in denial, but through transformation. The broken part of the self now becomes a gateway to love.

The tzaddik, as the Rebbe describes him, models a healthy, secure spiritual identity: he doesn't rely on his achievements, nor does he inflate himself. He recognizes that all light is darkness before the Infinite, and his greatest longing is for deveikus—pure connection. Even his prayer is modeled on attachment humility: he doesn't demand, he pleads for unearned love, as a child would before a parent.

The most striking psychological point of the maamar is its refusal to judge. The Rebbe warns against spiritual arrogance: we no longer have access to the tools to evaluate another person's soul. Someone can, in one moment of heartfelt Teshuvah, rise beyond what a tzaddik can reach in a lifetime. This evokes the trauma-informed principle: never assume you know someone's story. Healing is non-linear, and what seems broken on the outside may be roaring with redemption on the inside.

Story

In a therapeutic circle for men recovering from addiction, a participant named Aaron sat silently for three sessions. He was heavily tattooed, emotionally distant, and avoided eye contact. During the fourth session, while others were sharing about father wounds and shame, Aaron suddenly stood up. His lip trembled. He couldn't speak. Then he let out a cry that seemed to rise from the floor. A guttural sound, soaked with pain.

No one moved.

After several minutes, he whispered: "I thought I was too far gone to cry."

The group facilitator said quietly, "That cry may have reached places words can't."

From that day on, Aaron began healing—not from theology or philosophy, but from that groan, that shofar, which lifted his story back into light.
